A STUDENT ANTHOLOGY OF ART AND WRITING ABOUT NATURE

What should I submit for publication?

DEADLINE
FOR SUBMISSIONS:
FRIDAY, MAY 31, 2019

- Original 2-D Artwork (drawing, painting, photography, mixed-media, etc.). Artwork can measure up to 9 x 12 inches. High-quality photographs of sculpture, carvings, masks and other art with raised surfaces or 3-D elements will be accepted. Please do not submit original 3-D artwork.
- Original Writing (poetry, nonfiction, or fiction, up to 500 words). Written entries should be typed. Foreign language entries should be accompanied with an English translation.
- Send one art and/or one writing entry per student, per year. Questions? Contact the staff at Straub Outdoors at 503-779-5227 or at Info@StraubOutdoors.org. For detailed instructions on how to submit art and writing, visit www.HonoringOurRivers.org/submit.

2019 THEME:

ENVISIONING OUR WATERSHEDS:
PRESENT AND FUTURE

What do you think our watersheds will look like in 25 years? In 50 years? Will there be clean rivers surrounded by healthy forests and abundant native wildlife? What steps can we take to ensure this future?

Because climate change, habitat restoration, wildlife conservation and water quality are important issues affecting the world we live in, the 2019 theme draws attention to the future of Oregon's natural resources and how we can conserve and protect them. We encourage students to express their connection to rivers and what they think our state's ecosystems will look like in the future.

How do I submit my art or writing?

- For art submissions, place your original artwork or photograph in a 9" x 12" or 10" x 13" envelope with a piece of cardboard, card stock or poster board on either side to protect it.
- For writing submissions, type and print on letter-sized paper. Fold and place in a #10 envelope.
- Complete the submission form on the next page, print, and enclose it with your art or writing.
- Address the envelope to: Straub Outdoors, P.O. Box 12363, Salem, Oregon 97309.
- Artwork will be returned unless it is selected for the traveling exhibition. (See next page.)
- Please do not email or mail photocopies of 2-D artwork. High-quality photographs of 3-D art will be accepted. Please do not send original sculpture, or any artwork with raised surfaces.
- Entries will be juried by a panel of writers, teachers, artists and students. Selected entries will be published in the print edition. All accepted submissions will appear in the online publication.

I'm a teacher. Can I submit work for my students?

This year, we are asking students and parents/guardians to submit art and writing directly to us for jury consideration and publication. If you are a teacher who has submitted entries on behalf of your students in previous years, please have each student and parent/guardian complete a submission form, paperclip it to the art or writing entry, and mail your students' original entries (no photocopies, no digital files) together in a large envelope with cardboard or poster board on either side to protect it. If the artwork from your students won't fit in a 9" x 12" or 10" x 13" envelope, you can slide them into a flat cardboard box (don't make it into a box, keep it flat). Tape the seams and edges with shipping tape and mail to: Straub Outdoors, P.O Box 12363, Salem, Oregon 97309. Artwork will be returned to each individual student at the address provided on the submission form. Questions? Give us a call at 503-779-5227.
